Press

Gold Flake Paint - 'The overall attention to detail across the whole EP is genuinely something to marvel at [...] Golden Halls really is a startling success.'

This is Fake DIY - '[...]a Brighton producer who spins perfectionists ideas through escapist arrangements.'

Source Magazine - 'His downtempo style is layered with majestic textures and heart-tugging tones but the most interesting aspect of Adolescent's music is the way it conjures up a narrative through sound alone.'

Profile

I have been composing, producing, programming & engineering music for the past 7 years.

I am rapidly achieving notoriety as a freelance composer and music producer, with a clientele list consisting of globally known companies, such as Amazon, UEFA, Oxfam, Lush Cosmetics & Siemens.

I also write music under the moniker Adolescent, and am set to release my first official record, entitled 'Golden Halls', in May 2014 with Kldscp records.

Work Ethic

I excel when writing to a set brief, and regard a high level of communication between myself and the client to be crucial.

I am strict with deadlines, and embrace the taxing nature of the work.
